

SEKOLAH TINGGI TEOLOGI REFORMED INJILI INTERNASIONAL (STTRII)

The Progressive Unity of Knowing and Doing:
An Analysis of Jonathan Edwards' Notion on Religious Affections and its Application

THESIS PROPOSAL SUBMITTED TO THE FACULTY OF
SEKOLAH TINGGI TEOLOGI REFORMED INJILI INTERNASIONAL

FOR

THE DEGREE OF
MASTER THEOLOGY

BY DUAN HANYI
081801102

JAKARTA
JULY 2021

Sekolah Tinggi Teologi Reformed Injili Internasional

DECLARATION OF APPROVED THESIS

Thesis title is

THE PROGRESSIVE UNITY OF KNOWING AND DOING: AN ANALYSIS OF JONATHAN EDWARDS' NOTION ON RELIGIOUS AFFECTIONS AND ITS APPLICATION

written by

DUAN HANYI

submitted in partial fulfillment of the requirement for the degree of

Master of Theology

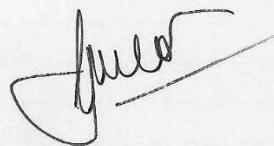

has been approved by the board of graduate studies of STT Reformed Injili Internasional with recommendations from the examiners below:

Billy Kristanto Dr. phil., Dr. theol.
(Supervisor)

Audy Santoso M.Div., M.Th., Ph.D.
(Chief Examiner)

Agus Marjanto, M.Div., M.Th.
(Examiner)

Jadi Sampurna Lima, M.Div., M.A., M.Th.
(Examiner)

15 June 2022

TABLE OF CONTENTS

ABSTRACT	4
CHAPTER I INTRODUCTION.....	5
1.1 Problem background.....	5
1.2 Statement of Research Problem.....	10
1.3 Research Questions.....	10
1.4 Thesis Statement	11
1.5 Implications of Research	11
1.6 Research Method	15
1.7 Limitations	15
1.8 Research System	16
CHAPTER II THE NATURE OF AFFECTIONS	17
2.1 Edwards' definition of Affection	17
2.1.1 The Unity of Human Soul	18
2.1.2 Affection and emotion	19
2.1.3 Affection and Reason	22
2.2 Affections and John Locke.....	25
2.2.1 Edwards and John Locke	25
2.2.2 Religious Affections and John Locke	27
2.2.3 The New Spiritual Sense and John Locke	30
2.2.4 The Sense of Heart and John Locke	37
2.2.5 The Motivator of Actions and John Locke	46
2.3 Conclusion	52
CHAPTER III AFFECTIONS, SIN AND SALVATION	53
3.1 Edwards Doctrine of Man and Sin.....	54
3.1.1 Adam before the fall.....	55
3.1.2 Adam after the fall.....	59
3.2 Salvation on the Intellect and the Will.....	69
3.2.1 The Primacy of the Intellect and the Will	69

3.2.2 The Restoration of Reason and Will by Salvation.....	73
3.3 Conclusion	81
CHAPTER IV AFFECTIONS AND PRACTICES	82
 4.1 The Mixed Affections of Saints.....	82
 4.2 The idea of Disposition and Habit.....	86
4.2.1 Terminology	86
4.2.2 The Nature of Disposition and Habit.....	87
4.2.3 Assessment on Dispositional Ontology of Sang Hyun Lee	89
4.2.4 The Necessity of Holy Practice	97
 4.3 The Means of Grace for Affections	106
4.3.1 Prayer.....	107
4.3.2 Music and Singing Praise	109
4.3.3 Sacraments.....	113
4.3.4 Preaching.....	117
4.3.5 Sanctification of Affections	122
 4.4 Conclusion	124
CHAPTER V CONCLUSION	126
BIBLIOGRAPHY	131

ABSTRACT

Religious affection is the great missing link in contemporary evangelical Christianity. As a result, churches often mistakenly believe that simply teaching Christians correct doctrines will enable them to live a holy life. Furthermore, many Christians mistakenly believe that Christianity is all about fulfilling a series of religious responsibilities. They are simply satisfied with mediocre Christianity. They obey explicit commands and abstain from explicit sins, but that's about it. More seriously, the absence of religious affections in Christianity is creating hypocrites. Especially as a pastor and church leader, as a preacher who stands on the pulpit and preaches the Word of God, if they also fail to transform theological knowledge into a holy life will only become hypocritical actors on the stage and make the whole Christianity despised by the world. Churches are thus unable to be the testimony to the world and glorify the name of God. Jonathan Edwards claimed with great certainty that "true religion, in great part, consists in holy affections." This thesis explores how Edwards' religious affections serve as the bridge between doctrinal knowledge and Holy practice for Christians.

Keywords: religious affections, Jonathan Edwards, John Locke, anthropology, philosophy.